San Francisco, May 28, 2019 – Tivic Health™ Systems today announced the expansion of its executive team with the appointments of Subinoy Das, MD as Chief Medical Officer and Michael Nketiah as Vice President of Quality and Regulatory Affairs. Earlier this year, Tivic Health received 510(k) clearance from the FDA for ClearUP™ Sinus Pain Relief, a small, handheld device that uses gentle microcurrent waveforms to provide sinus pain relief to the 40+ million Americans suffering from allergic rhinitis (hay fever).

As Chief Medical Officer, Subinoy Das, MD, a leading otolaryngologist from Ohio, will provide clinical insights and perspectives to facilitate product development and adoption. Michael Nketiah, Vice President of Quality and Regulatory Affairs, will be responsible for Tivic Health's compliance efforts, working with regulatory bodies and refining research protocols.

"We are delighted to have Dr. Das and Mr. Nketiah join our team as we work to bring ClearUP to market late this summer," said Jennifer Ernst, CEO of Tivic Health. "Dr. Das brings to our team deep expertise and business savvy in sinus health care. Mr. Nketiah's domestic and international experience in quality and regulatory affairs will be invaluable as we chart our growth."

"I've been impressed with the product's efficacy as well as the dynamic Tivic Health team and look forward to breaking new ground with ClearUP and the Tivic Health team," said Dr. Das.

Mr. Nketiah said, "I prefer companies that have a deep respect for and understanding of quality and have found that mindset at Tivic Health. The company was particularly interesting because they are in the forefront of cutting-edge medicine, e.g. neurostimulation."

Subinoy Das, MD, FACS, FARS is the CEO and Medical Director at the U.S. Institute for Advanced Sinus Care and Research in Ohio. He is the former director of the Ohio State University Sinus and Allergy Center and Assistant Professor at Ohio State University.
